Advanced Molecular Sciences

The aim of this Master Degree is the training of Graduates in Chemistry with high scientific and professional qualifications. The Master will offer the opportunity to acquire top level knowledge and experience in the design, synthesis and characterization of complex systems and their applications in fundamental research and in industrial activities. The training project is aimed at overcoming the traditional dichotomy between the teachings of chemistry of synthetic materials and chemistry of biological molecules and to offer interdisciplinary skills.

At the end of the Master course the Graduates will possess the skills that derive from the two areas for the design and study of the complex systems including materials, bio-pharmaceuticals, probes and theragnostic of the next generation. The molecular vision will bring about the development of new products and the precise control of their properties, providing effective and sustainable responses to the needs of the society in terms of new therapeutic approaches, new materials, new processes and new analytical methods.

As well, 3 exams in mathematics and/or physics shall be included
| School of Mathematical, Physical and Natural Sciences | The M.Sc. Degree in Computer Science is structured in two different curricula, one of which is taught in English. The Curriculum Resilient and Secure Cyber-Physical Systems merges computer science and engineering notions for the definition, design, assessment and certification of all those kinds of systems that comprise a cyber and a physical part, as for the example the Internet of Things (IoT) or Critical Infrastructures. Realizing cyber-physical systems is challenging and requires multidisciplinary knowledge ranging from distributed systems to sensor networks, from software engineering to artificial intelligence. In addition, to enhance the resilience and security of cyber-physical systems, verification and certification methodologies and tools are required so to ensure system survival in case of random anomalies, deliberate attacks, and in general unexpected critical events. | https://www.informaticamagistrale.unifi.it/vp-235-ay-2021-2022.html | First Cycle or Bachelor Degree in an appropriate subject, listed below Computer science, computer engineering, Mathematics, Electronic or communication engineering, physics. School of Political Science, Sociology, International Studies, International Law

Prospective students must have passed at least 3 exams in the field of Law and/or Economics: International Law; Micro and Macro Economics. A sound knowledge in the field of International History, Political Science and Sociology is also considered to be important.

| School of Political Science, Sociology, International Studies | The two-year Master’s Programme intended to provide a background in the legal, economic, historical and political science fields necessary in the international or European context. In the International Relations track, students explore various issues, including international law related to the protection of human rights, the relationship between religion and international relations, economic and taxation issues, education and health, and the role of supranational institutions. The International Relations track prepares students interested in pursuing a diplomatic career or in becoming officers or directors in international organizations, NGOs, international cooperation agencies, consulting agencies, journalism, research centers. The European Studies track aims to train professionals with in-depth knowledge of the process of European integration and its current organization, with a particular focus on the structure and dynamics of EU functions, integration, the content of EU policy, and the EU's impact in national and international politics. | https://www.unifi.it/p-cor2-2020-101229-8087-GEN-1-0.html | Political Science, Sociology, International Studies, International Law |
